Julia,
Well, here at the end of our junior year, my thoughts and emotions are so thoroughly mixed that I really don't know what to say. I'm overjoyed at the thought of another school year's work ended but for many of our friends, this could very well be the end of their real life in Swainsboro.

More important than anything else next year will be our sticking together. Without Judy, I don't know how that will be, but we'll have to pretend that she's just absent and not gone. I'll be pestering you more than ever next year for help in Trig and Physics and Government. Maybe will make it out and can start over in college.

This year was a bad one romantically, wasn't it. It just looked as if some kind of bug infested our happiness. I'm glad we all finally worked our problems out. I want to especially thank you for helping me and Ricky out. I am sure you got tired of hearing "I don't understand."

Julia, you know how much I think of you as a person and how clearly I regard your friendship. Let me beg you to please let's never lose contact with each other, no matter what. Best of luck and life's blessings and may God bless you always.

Love always,
Gail.

P.S.
Take good

Jack?

An intense love of life that was an inspiration to all those who encroached his world; a sympathy for human nature and all its foibles; a person that smiled when tears prevailed, that persevered when others failed . . .

this was Jerry Warren

Editor's Message

In our rush to fulfill our responsibility we came to know and experience the "blood, sweat, and tears" that go into a year's worth of action at Swainsboro High School. Special emphasis has been placed on this action. The Spotlight is now a new size and has a new cover style. Division pages and layouts have also been given a new face. All these things, plus the preservation of some past innovations, fashion the 1966 Spotlight.

It is a pictorial history of a year of our Youth. We, the editors and staff hope for nothing more than that in this 1966 Spotlight we have captured forever the strength and the vitality of Youth in action within this, our school.

Mr. Tom Durden

He has infused an infinite gift of spirit into our school.

He has introduced into us a sense of pride in our school and in our lives as a whole.

He has unknowingly set an example for us to follow from the standpoints of religion, ability, and dedication to a purpose in life.

He has befriended us in times of need, sympathized with us in times of sorrow, and laughed with us in times of joy.

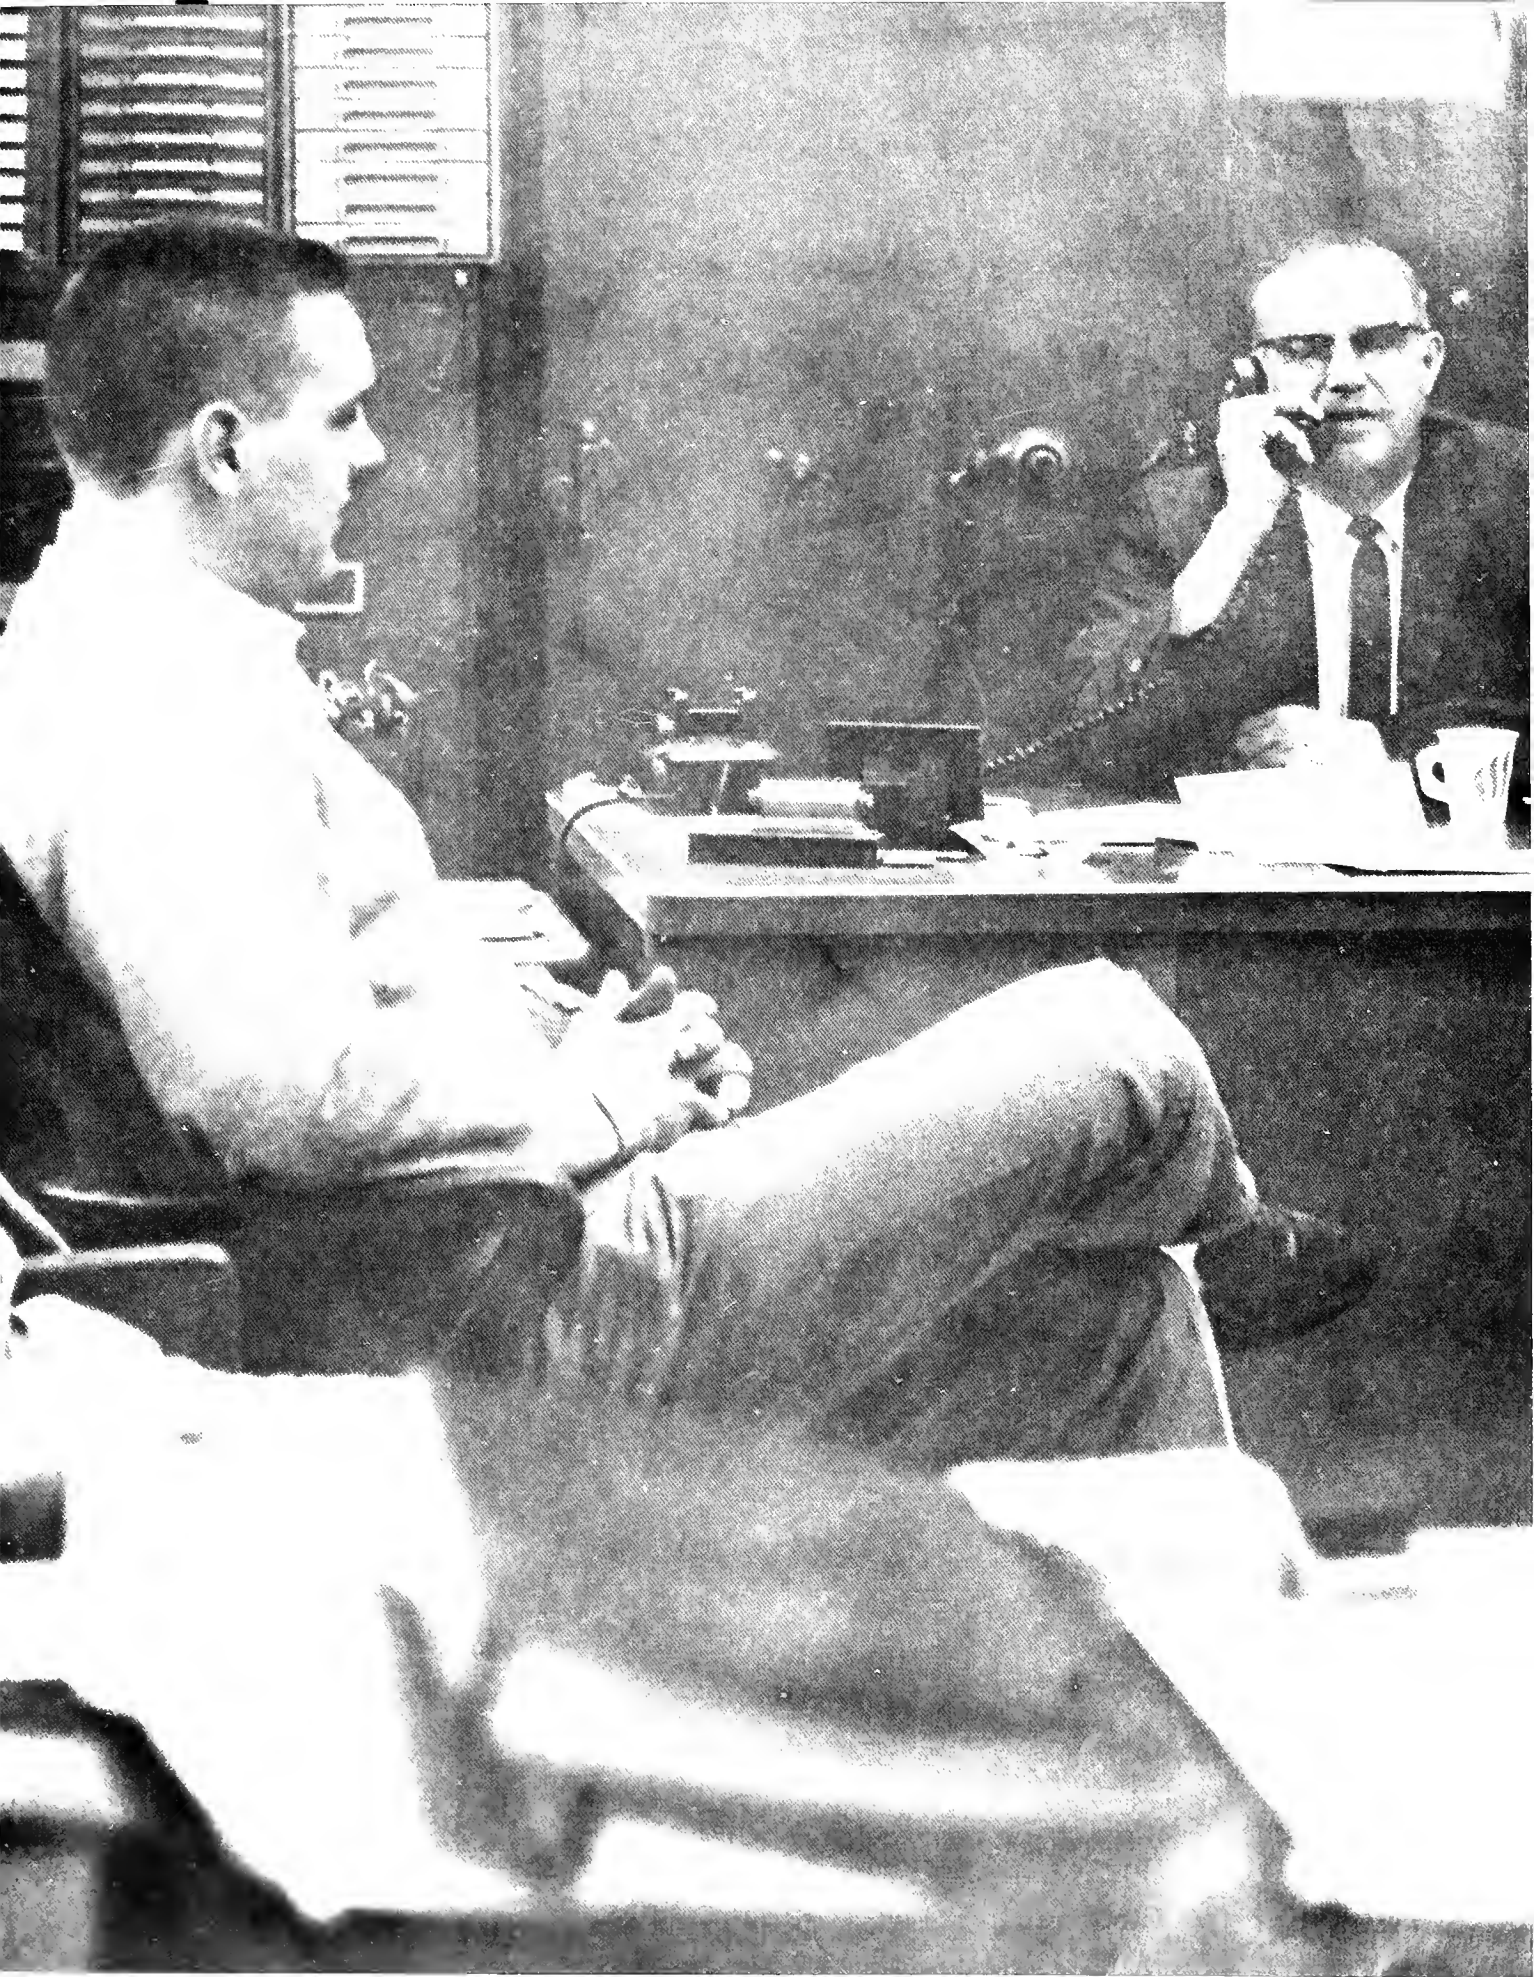

His jovial smile, bouncy step, and sunny disposition help to lift our spirits.

ADMINISTRATION

A stern hand . . . a steady voice . . . worthy of respect and admiration . . . near enough to the students to understand and beyond them enough to advise . . . mature and sophisticated, yet involved in every aspect of youthful action.

Lunchroom Staff

The lunchroom is truly a place of activity with all the talking, laughing and eating. However, this does not affect Mrs. Sasser and the lunchroom ladies, who are always ready to serve us. We extend our thanks to all of you once again.

MRS. R. H. SASSER, SR.

Sidney Poole

Maintenance

Without the help of Sidney, the lunchroom ladies would really be in a rush. He is always at their side making their job easier and answering any pleas for help.

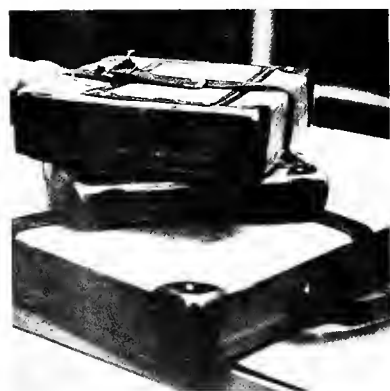

We owe many thanks to Clinton and Jessie, who work faithfully to keep our school clean. With over 500 students scurrying around it is a wonder how they can accomplish their job. Thanks again for a job well done.

Clinton and Jessie

CLASSES

The classroom ... from the impersonal auditorium to the group interrelated through the exchange of thought and experience ... the lab ... the whistle in the hall ... the ruckus in room number twenty ... the struggle with the examination which inevitably comes ... all this is part of the everyday life of a student in the classes of Swainsboro High School.

Freshmen

Entering the 9th grade is an experience than no one can ever forget. It is filled with excitement, in that it is the main step toward the goal of becoming a senior. However, before reaching this goal, each freshman will have his pleasures, troubles, anxieties, even pitfalls, and will begin to wonder if he will ever get through it all.

So freshmen, get ready for the most wonderful ride you will ever take.

Sophomores

"You can tell a sophomore—but you can't tell him much." He is at an inbetween year when the frosh seem the meekest bunch he's ever seen and the juniors and seniors aren't so high and mighty after all. However, the sophomores are an essential part of the S. H. S. vitality. They may not have yelled as loud as the juniors and seniors this year, but fifty years from now, they'll remember just as much.

Juniors

Juniors participate in all activities of the school year just like other students—only they seem to have more fun doing it. Having neither inhibited sophomore sophistication or reserved senior dignity, juniors just kick up their heels and howl. They realize this is their last chance for unrestrained vitality before settling down to serious business—being a senior.

Student Council

This year the Student Council's main project has been the conducting of college night to help students to decide which college they wish to attend when they graduate from high school. Several hundred students were present to create a successful endeavor for which the Student Council must be praised.

In the past year the members of the Key Club, who must maintain at least an eighty-five average, have sponsored or participated in such activities as a fund raising drive to obtain money for the stadium, placing candy on the teachers' desks on Valentine's Day, helping with the decoration of the court house square during Christmas, and sending a busload of students to the CSRA tournaments. Our chapter of the Key Club was commended by the eighth district lieutenant governor for its leadership in this district.

1966 HOMECOMING QUEEN
Louise Maglioli

Even soggy weather couldn't make Tiger spirit sluggish on Homecoming. The crowning of our Queen, Miss Louise Maglioli, in an impressive afternoon assembly gave the festivities a wonderful start. Although you can't have a bonfire in the rain, shouts of "Turn That Tiger Loose!" were certainly at home in the auditorium.

To add to a perfect day from parade to presentation of the Queen and her court, our "Action Tiger Team" defeated Eifingham County with a wallop!

Miss Pat Watson succeeded in capturing the hearts and votes of the judges in last year's beauty pageant to become the most envied girl in school—Miss S.H.S.

Miss
SHS

In the Pine Tree Festival, Miss Mary Walden, in her usual manner, added her sparkling touch to make the parade a success.

Debate Team

Hours of hard work and diligence were, this year, just as important components of the S.H.S. debate team as Danny, Charlie, Jack and Franklin. Of course, reward was theirs when they arrived home from an exciting weekend at Chamblee Forum in Atlanta with a 6:4 record. Although the team didn't capture the sub-region title, they have already begun to develop another thirst for victory which will be quenched next year.

RESOLVED: That the Federal Government should prohibit industry-wide collective bargaining.

Hard at work are Charlie Elliott, Danny Hutchinson, Jack Hodges and Franklin Edenfield

Some called it beginner's luck; some just expected it to happen. With a hard-working cast, and a lot of work behind the scenes, Swainsboro High School's "Pink Lemonade for Tomorrow" captured 2nd place its first time around in region competition in Sylvania on February 12. Becky Ford, beautifully portraying Caroline Ramsey, brought home the title of "Best Actress in Region 2A" making this another victorious year for the drama department of SHS.

SPORTS

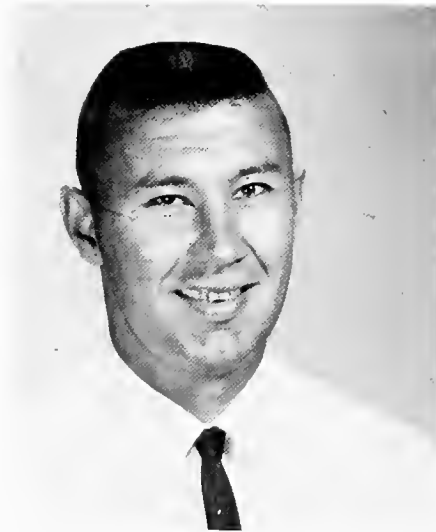

A crowd sweeping you up in its teeming excitement ... shouts of "Turn that Tiger Loose" ... the crash of helmets ... the split of the net ... the crack of a bat ... hours of grueling training ... unforgettable out-of-town trips ... the observation and participation in an activity demanding untiring energy ... all this and much more is called sports.

Practice, Practice, Practice ... sore muscles, bruised knees, thinking splits and cartwheels are impossibilities—all of this goes into the making of our cheerleaders.

Along with new uniforms, the Tigers cheerleaders had almost a completely new squad, with the exception of the Captain, Susan Rich. They had it hard learning from the beginning, but they did a very commendable job of reviving and leading the "Tiger Spirit" at Swainsboro High.

Senioritis is quite a common disease which is prevalent all across the country and especially at Swainsboro High in the fall of each year. The symptoms are easy to diagnose. It all begins with a swelling of the third finger of the left hand; the color is sometimes different but the swelling is evidently there.

A second symptom is an indefinable spark. It's in the eyes of a Senior at a Swainsboro-Statesboro game and it turns into a glow upon victory. It's in the looks of confidence in being number one after speling spliling spelling in the auditorium. It's also in their everyday lives. When you find some fun going on, they are not only in it—they started it.

In addition to these symptoms, there are occasional wrinkles. These seem especially widespread when the college board scores arrive and while applications and forms are being filled out. The contagious stage is easily identified when lines of anxiety are seen on the "older student's" forehead—especially the big one with the paddle.

Finally, with the beginning of graduation practice, the disease is at its height. In this stage symptoms are hard to diagnose. Senior dignity, pride, and foolishness come to the forefront. With mixed emotions, Seniors approach graduation night. When the folks start arriving, an uninvited lump in the throat almost wins out over Senior dignity and then—the fever is broken. Seniors are ready to start anew.

Judy,

Thank goodness this year is almost over. On the other hand I wish it weren't going to end. I'm going to miss Swainboro next year, but I'll especially miss my friends, and you in particular. We have had a lot of good times together haven't we? I hope you'll remember the good times instead of the bad ones, it's hard to tell your best friend how you feel but I hope you understand. Just because I won't be here next year, I don't want our friendship to end. You'll have to come see me often and tell Jack he can come too sometimes.

I think you are really a great person and one of the best friends anyone ever had. I want you to stop cutting yourself because there couldn't be a nicer person. I'll make you a deal, you stop cutting yourself and I'll stop cutting myself.

It's been great going through high school and sharing a locker with you all those years. Be sure and don't forget to sell me an annual next year so I'll know what a mess ya'll have made without me to look after things. Good luck next year and in all the years to come because if anybody deserves it you do. Don't you and Jack sneak off and get married anytime unless you let me know so I can sneak off, too.

Love always,
Judy

P.S. Don't forget to invite me down sometime and to send me an invitation to your graduation since I won't have one.

We've always been good friends but now year I've grown to appreciate you even more.
You've always been near when I needed any help or advice. You're the best friend a person could have and I'll never forget you. You did a wonderful job in "Pink Lemonade" and
"The Glass Menagerie" and I'll ~~never~~ always remember the fun times along with the not-so-fun times we had getting them ready for production. I'm looking forward to working with you on the Spotlight because I know I'll be able to depend on you. May you have the best that life has to offer and may your pathway be covered with more flowers than thorns.
God bless you in all you do.

With love,
Linda H.

Julia,

I've gotten to know you this year and I like it. You've got a certain drive that everyone needs. Keep it up and you'll have it knocked!!! I'm really looking forward to working with cheerleading next year with you.
We'll have a great squad for a great team! I can't wait!! It should be a blast!!

Julia, your friendship has meant more to me this year than anything else. It was comforting to find someone with the same problems. It really helped to talk to you. You can't imagine how much it helped.

Julia, if I can ever do anything for you please let me know. Thank you for putting up with all my moods. God bless you and I hope you have the best for you deserve the best!

Love
Phyllis

Dear Julia,
Well, three years have passed since you know when. This year has had to have been the best of all. When I look back overall, - me turning sixteen & diving into the "Monty's little event", the first date which turned into "The missing" suppers; the going to Chamblee; your "skating" trips; and the most rewarding of all, our dates - I can't help but get a funny feeling inside and outside. I guess I can't help it because I was in the presence of all of these times and many more I was in the these occasions would have been every moment of time had I been there. It seems that every moment of time has proven to be the most wonderful I have been every moment of time with you has proven to be the most wonderful I have spent with you. Even when you weren't with me, I was thinking about you. Like the night you answered the phone and it was you so excited I didn't know what to say as I am sure you could tell. These past years have meant more than words could express. When I think of these years,

I look forward to our future which I hope is ours. Next year is going to be just great, especially during football season. The things I want to tell you are said better privately so I'll stop here. (It would be difficult to write here)

I love you,
Jack

These words are so true. When I express our friendship and the great love we've had. We've grown together during the years we've been in high school. Now it's junior year and next year we'll be going separate ways. All I can say is I'll never forget you and the fun we've had, (such as beach, the beach, parties, etc). These fond memories will soon erase the memories of hard times of trial. Remember, keep your determination and faith when times are trying.
Best of luck next year to you (and Jack).
God Bless you!

Love,
Cathy

Each year it seems we grow more apart. May-the coming year we can become better friends than ever. I think back we have shared a lot of things together & had a lot of fun. I hope in our coming year your joy and happiness will double

Love
Linda 151

Julia,
It's

It's been really great going to school with you all these years. You're a real sweet girl. It was really a blast ~~to~~ being in the play with you. I hope you and Jack always have the best of luck because you deserve it.

Yes, Sir,

I have just received your letter on the play. I don't like it. I don't want to

don't want to try it.

Best wishes for your

your great potential I am sure you will have the best of life to offer. Love
Diane

Julia,
We've had plenty of good times since we came into Junior High, haven't we. Just think, we'll be seniors next year (in a few days really)! I know we'll have a ball, especially on the cheerleading squad. You sure have a job ahead of you, being all so straight. But I have no doubt that you'll be a wonderful job with ease.

Know you have a wonderful personality that people naturally like. I appreciate your friendship more than one. I have grown to love you and this year and before I know it we'll be seniors. I only hope you'll always have friends if you stay the same. I wish you a great help in new ways more, this summer we'll become even closer. (I only hope you'll have fun.) Stay sweet and love,
Diane

Just y' back to a real sweet girl that really deserves it Always remember our wonderful time at Rock Eagle Love ya,
Loretta

Julia,
It's been a pleasure getting to know you this year,
and I'll always treasure
your friendships.

It was not until later throw us in the same study hall, that I could really say that I know you. We always managed to talk about current events ^{to} cry on each others shoulders, and to play dear abby to everyone at the library assistants' table.

Please forgive that untidy writing over, but that ink pen wouldn't have lasted on this gold end sheet, and I had to insure this masterpiece
for succeeding generations.
This school needs people like you to contribute to every phase of its life. Give it your best next year.

May you find God's will for your life and may he bless all of your endeavors.

Love,
Loretta
